Breaking in the new space...AGS Inc. National Sales Meeting

We were so proud to be able to host our first in house national Sales Meeting in our new space this past November, 2019.

Our representatives from all over the country came for this 1 day only event. We had a full agenda that day including presentations, a shop tour, interactive Q&A and a delicious dinner at Ditka's of Oakbrook. Thanks to our representatives for participating, feedback and their great company.

AGS, Inc. has moved...

But not too far from the old space

We are happy to announce we are all settled into our new location in Frankfort, IL! And, just like a new home, we wanted to be sure to cover all our bases as far as functionality and aesthetics were concerned.

One of the obvious advantages of the new space is the combining of our two smaller locations. The new design has definitely improved our production process.

From material delivery, to fabrication, welding, assembly, crating, and finally shipping. We now have a flow pattern that better suits our needs. Separate receiving and delivery docks make logistics easier than ever.

We now enjoy two conference rooms and a beautiful lunchroom which seats the entire staff comfortably and also doubles as an excellent meeting room where we hosted our first "in house" national sales meeting in November. The new space lends itself to visitors who are welcome to take a tour of the facility and get a hands on experience that illustrates how AGS Inc. consistently maintains

If you haven't come to see us in our new space, we'd love to have you pay us a visit soon.

Having easy accessibility between office and shop makes project management more efficient and effective. Floor to ceiling glazing and glass wall partitions, (all fabricated and installed in house) provide natural light and beauty to the entire office space. Motion detecting LED lighting and remote temperature control throughout, are a couple of the many green features we included as well.

a superior quality final product. Lastly, the exterior of the building wouldn't be AGS Inc. without sunshades and vertical fins for added energy efficiency and aesthetic appeal. Woodgrain aluminum rectangular tube accents within the office provide inside AGS appeal as well. If you haven't come to see us in our new space, we'd love to have you pay us a visit soon.

1st Annual "On Site" AGS Team Building Event

Team Building Idea Contest

We love fun, creative team building ideas here at AGS, Inc.

We don't mind sharing ours and appreciate yours too. So much so that we are having a team building idea contest. Follow this link to our blog where we feature Team Building Ideas this month. The best idea gets an AGS thermal water bottle. Deadline Feb 7th.

Another great moment in the new place was for fun, but also a nice way to get to know our co-workers better and have a little good clean competition. Just some simple timed brain games including The Egg Drop Eggstravaganza, Tower of Turnbuckles, and the AGS Ascent to name a few. People really got into it... some a little too much!
